Punjab Summit: 17 startup innovations to change world’s economy

- Hindustan Times, SAS Nagar
- Updated: Oct 29, 2015 13:36 IST

The concluding day of Progressive Punjab Summit-2015 witnessed an absorbing session on startups where youth from adjoining technical universities flocked to listen to 17 innovation ideas incubated during three-day long startup accelerator held at IT park Chandigarh.

Young innovators lecturing investors having more than 30 to 50 years’ experience in running and managing industries was the highlight of the technical session held on Thursday.
As the innovators were seen sharing their vision for a different future enabled with low investment and high output ideas, some of them presented home kits for cervical cancer detection, management of the kitchen waste and handling the paucity of currency coins.

Yatin Thakur from Startup Weekend US said that the session Startups was culmination of the Startup Weekend program organized on October 23 and October 24 startup activities and booster camps that were held across the Punjab in varied universities’ campuses selecting 17 teams that stood out in their innovation techniques that Progressive Punjab Investors’ Summit 2015 held in collaboration with the Startups Accelerator Chamber of Commerce (SACC). The ideas were churned out by the energetic youngsters who showcased their talent, which when implemented has the potential to change the way we think today.

KS Bhatia from Pumpkart strongly felt that Punjab is leading the way by focusing on developing a suitable ecosystem by promoting entrepreneurial youth of Punjab through its favorable policies in setting up a business and ensuring a strong enabling eco system. Young investors thanked the deputy chief minister Punjab Sukhbir Singh Badal for providing them platform for global exposure and opportunities.

Innovation of home kits to detect cervical cancer in women at cost of 5$ was hailed as major revolution in field of medical sciences. Swaypay team presented its novel idea of offline wallet that would transform the way we handle currency coins today. The jury of event suggested Swaypay team to get its idea patented. Bento Tiffin team presented the affordable way of getting access to homemade food or tiffin system at just a click of the button, while Ctrl P team talked about providing Xeroxed papers at less than 50 P per copy. Team of young innovators presented ways to create wealth from waste by collecting and processing kitchen leftovers into organic manure and another team presented innovative business idea of using Helium propelled balloons for displaying advertisements in commercial settlements like malls.

Providing its critical feedback with shared their life-long experiences, the panel adjudged best and most sustainable idea of providing home kits for early detection of cervical cancer as the winner. The panel of experts who selected the winner included KS Bhatia from Pumpkart, Dr Dinesh Dua from Nectar Life Sciences, Rajeev Rai CEO and Founder QA Source, Professor Sidharth Singh from ISB, Samar Singla from CEO Clicklabs and Parag Gopal from HDFC.

The finance minister, Government of Punjab Parminder Singh Dhindsa felicitated the winners of competition with the chief parliamentary secretary (CPS) NK Sharma. Prominent among others present included CEO Invest Punjab Anirudh Tiwari, joint CEO Invest Punjab Manjit Brar.

During the Progressive Punjab Investors Summit 2015, Invest Punjab and SACC joined hands to showcase some of the successful Punjabi startups and provide some of the budding startups a stage to present their ideas.

The final selected idea(s) will be given support by facilitating tie ups with the financial institutions, providing working space in the incubation center and mentoring by some of the industry leaders in their respective sectors.
Deputy Chief Minister of Punjab, Sukhbir Singh Badal announced a startup fund of $15 Mn (INR 100 Cr) for young entrepreneurs at the valedictory function of Progressive Punjab Summit, 2015.

The summit was held at the Indian School of Business (ISB), SAS Nagar (Mohali) on 28th - 29th October. The campaign celebrated the spirit of Punjabi enterprises and positioned Punjab and India to do business. The summit entailed discussions on taking steps in building efficient processes, eliminating administrative hurdles and enacting favourable policy initiatives.

Panelists in the summit included K S Bhatia from Pumpkart, Dr. Dinesh Dua from Nectar Life Sciences, Raveev Rai, CEO and founder of QA Source, Prof. Sidharth Singh from ISB, Samar Singla, CEO of Clicklabs, and Parag Gopal from HDFC.

According to KS Bhatia, Punjab is slowly developing a suitable ecosystem for startups by promoting the entrepreneurial youth of Punjab and through its favourable policies in setting up a business and ensuring a strong sustainable eco system.

Recent happenings to have no impact on Investor Summit: Sukhbir

Punjab Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Badal on Friday claimed that the recent happenings would have no impact on the upcoming Investor Summit, scheduled to be held on October 28-29 at Mohali. Sukhbir, after attending the bhog (culmination) ceremony of akhand path, (recitation of hymns) at Gurdwara Janmi Sahib in Bajajpur village, claimed that more than 100 industrial giants would give their nod for investing in the State.

He said that the recent happenings, such as the sacrilege of Guru Granth Sahib, have caused immense pain not only to the Sikh community but also to the humanity as a whole. He prayed for strengthening communal harmony, peace and amity in the State.

Sukhbir, also the SAD president, emphasised that the sole motive of the Punjab Government is to put the culprits responsible for these reprehensible incidents, behind the bars and bring out the truth before the public.

Assuring the people, Sukhbir said that the State Government is fully committed to maintain peace and communal harmony in the state and nobody would be allowed to vitiate the atmosphere.

He said that the police is investigating the incidents minutely so as to get to the root of the problem.

The motive behind the sacrilege incidents of Guru Granth Sahib is to weaken the State, Shiromani Akali Dal, Akal Takht Sahib and Shiromani Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee (SGPC), but the entire Sikh community and the Punjab Government would not allow the nefarious designs of such anti-social forces to succeed.

On the attacks on the SGPC members, MLAs of SAD, the Deputy Chief Minister said that this is a “deep-rooted political conspiracy.” He announced that the akhand path would be performed in every Vidhan Sabha constituency in order to strengthen the ties of peaceful co-existence and communal harmony.

“The Government had chalked out a comprehensive plan for the development of the State in accordance with which every Vidhan Sabha constituency was to get ₹25-50 crore for making Punjab a model State but some political forces, intend to the development, are fanning the fire of communalism to derail the all-round development of the State,” he said.

He appealed to the people to keep calm and assured that the State Government would take severe action against the people responsible for these disdainful acts.

Punjab BJP president Kamal Sharma, while terming the sacrilege of Guru Granth Sahib as an act of anti-social forces, said that such people have no religion. He appealed to the people of Punjab to maintain their calm and beware of the rumours in this difficult time.
WARM-UP SESSION FOR INVESTORS’ SUMMIT BEGINS
